Tientsin Falls To China Reds

Nationalists Debating Red Peace Terms

Nanking, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Chinese Communists captured Tientsin today, sharpening the urgency of the government alternatives to yield to harsh peace terms or flee.

The cabinet and other government bodies were holding tense conferences, and the policy-making executive Yuan scheduled an emergency session Sunday to discuss the Red conditions.

Those conditions, broadcast Friday night by the communist radio, amounted to a demand for unconditional surrender of the Chiang Kai-Shek government. Nanking hopes that they might be eased with glimmering as the fall of Tientsin demonstrated the reds' dominant military position.

Pleas Go Unheeded

Deepening the government gloom was authoritative word that both the United States and Britain had declined to use their good offices to seek peace talks. There appeared no reason to believe that France or Russia would heed similar pleas.

Conquest of Tientsin after a month of siege and a day of artillery bombardment cost the government another 60,000 of its remaining troops, and freed an estimated 120,000 reds for new operations.

The communist radio stressed the obvious fact that the capture cleared a rail route all the way from Amchuria down to the Yangtze river front before Nanking.

This hurried the continuing flight of government offices from this beleaguered capital.

It was learned authoritatively that the bulk of government gold and foreign currency already had been moved to the island of Formosa, more than 500 miles by air southeast of Nanking.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was reported also to have sent many of his personal possessions there.

Start Evacuation

The National Defense Ministry planned to start moving its personnel Sunday to Hengyang, more than 500 miles northwest of Nanking. The foreign office was studying quick removal plans.

Semi-official Chinese sources said Paochow, more than 400 miles by air south of Nanking, had been chosen as a temporary capital when Nanking should become untenable.

Formosa is being saved as an ultimate refuge if the government finds itself unable to stay in the mainland, these sources reported.

Public clamor for peace at any price was increasing, and even in official circles there was a feeling that communist conditions were not unreasonable in view of the military situation.

No Room For Bargaining

The universal reaction was that the reds left no room for bargaining. Broadcast by the red radio last night, they included punishment of war criminals, destruction of "reactionary elements," and abandonment of the constitution.

The war criminal angle led most officials to shy away from comment, even privately. As one put it, "I have to think of my own skin."

Radio reports from Peking indicated the communist seizure at noon Saturday was practically bloodless, but it followed a day of heavy shelling that damaged many of the city's large buildings and took an unknown but high number of civilian lives.

U. S. Counsel General Robert L. Smyth radioed that all Americans numbering more than 80 were safe, and the British consulate reported similarly. The U. S. consulate windows were broken by shell concussion.

Rita Hayworth Meets Aga Khan, Aly Khan's Father

Cannes, France, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Rita Hayworth, red-haired American movie actress, met Aga Khan, the fabulously rich Indian and father of her traveling friend, Prince Aly Khan. It was learned today.

Some French newspaper, described the meeting last night as one between Rita "and her future father-in-law."

A servant close to the actress said Miss Hayworth accompanied Aly when he visited his father last night, but that was all that was learned.

The prince has a wife in England. Rita is the divorced wife of movie actor Orson Welles. She and the prince have been together in Mexico, England, Paris and Switzerland. At all places they refused to tell newspapermen more than that they were good friends.

The spleen acts as a gland, secreting hormones into the blood stream.

Rome Workers Rebel Against Red Leaders

Rome, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Christian Democrat workers rebelled today against communist-directed strike orders.

Their action threatened to sap the strength of a well-planned Communist-led labor war against government and industry. This struggle invaded 60 of Italy's biggest industrial factories in the Milan area tomorrow in the form of "non-collaboration" or slow-downs.

Non-Communist labor leaders quickly called on their followers to stick to their jobs. They branded the slow-down "sabotage" with political motives.

Dutch Charge U.N. Group Is Biased On Indonesian War

Batavia, Java, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Dutch conquerors of the republic of Indonesia today accused the United Nations good offices committee here of being biased and badly informed.

An army communiqué lashed at the committee's report to the U. N. yesterday that Holland's forces can't even preserve order, let alone stop widespread sabotage by republican guerrillas. The committee's observers reported hundreds of bridges destroyed and much destruction by guerrillas, particularly around Soerabaya.

The Dutch reply came as the guerrillas' underground radio reported new victories against the Dutch, and said insurgents had knifed into the Dutch-held communications network around Cheribon.

Anger was clear in the Dutch report to the good offices committee. It said that "for months on end" the Dutch told the committee about "the looting, murder, destruction and vexation of the population" caused by guerrillas.

Demos Shake Up Their Portion Of House Spy Group

Washington, Jan. 15.—(P)—Democratic leaders shook up their side of the House U. S.-American activities committee today, choosing five lawyers and former judges as members.

The action swept two hold-over members off the committee—Representatives Rankin (D-Miss) and Herbert (D-La.).

One Democratic congressman told reporters the move was designed to put the committee's operations "on a judicial basis" and "in the hands of men who know law and are trained in following the rules of evidence and court procedure."

The committee has stirred a storm of controversy in the past over its hearing methods and some of its accusations.

Sioux City Gets Order For Snow

Sioux City, Jan. 15.—(P)—Sioux City residents some of whom have paid to have snow hauled away, got an eyebrow lifter today.

Frank M. Reubens of the DuBouque, Ia., Junior Chamber of Commerce placed a conditional order for 10 carloads of Sioux City snow.

A ski meet is scheduled for DuBouque Jan. 23 and Bromberg said the way things are now he'll have to be prepared to import the stuff.

No price was specified.

Sioux City is in western Iowa and DuBouque is directly across the state on the eastern border.

Deer Hunter Gunfire Fatal To 140 Humans This Season

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(P)—Deer hunter gunfire has killed thousands of deer this season—and at least 140 people, too.

In addition, at least 78 persons lost their lives in activities related to deer hunting, making a total of 218 in 24 states.

Last year 144 persons died from deer hunting. About 3,500,000 venison-hungry people pull triggers each year.

The list of gunfire deaths reported in an Associated Press survey showed Maine on top with 20. New York counted 16, Colorado 13.

Hundreds of hunters and bystanders were wounded in the barrage. In Louisiana county, Virginia, a hunter fired only two shots. Both times he shot and injured another hunter.

Many of the deaths were caused by mistaken identity. In Oregon, Lawrence Simmon, 59, of Broadbent, saw what he thought was a bear in a tree.

"I holstered and it raised its back up, so I naturally thought it was a bear," he testified later.

Sec. Of Navy Says Powerful Defense Is Price Of Peace

Washington, Jan. 15.—(P)—The navy does not expect present international controversies to lead to war. Secretary John L. Sullivan said today, but believes a powerful defense is the price of peace.

"Literally speaking, that price is rising," Sullivan said in his annual report for 1947-48.

300 Are Killed In Race Riots

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 15.—(P)—A speeding car smashed into a parked taxicab today.

The vehicles hurtled 80 feet and came to rest beside a hospital door. Two men got out of the wreckage and walked in for treatment.

Both Parties Join To Tighten Laws Against Espionage

Washington, Jan. 15.—(P)—Speaker Rayburn and House Republican leader Martin (Mass.) threw bipartisan weight today behind the idea of hunting ways to tighten the laws against spying.

They showed an inclination to swing along with Attorney General Clark on the general theme that congress should explore the possibility of giving the government greater peacetime powers to combat espionage.

But Clark's specific proposals, particularly to legalize wire tapping, probably will be approached cautiously.

Rayburn told reporters: "I wouldn't be surprised if a search were made of what might be done."

Martin said: "I think it's worth a careful study to see if we can do anything."

Martin didn't want to take a position on wire tapping in spy cases without thinking it over more. He said he would "want to be sure we don't overstep ourselves" in trying to check spying.

Woman Is Raped As She Sleeps In Train Berth

Klamath Falls, Ore., Jan. 15.—(P)—A Southern Pacific passenger train was held here 48 hours today while officials investigated a woman passenger's complaint she had been raped in her berth.

The train, the West Coast Limited, bound from Portland for Los Angeles with 300 passengers, was released at 12:15 p.m. with District Attorney Canton E. Van Vactor of Klamath county aboard.

He said he would ride south with the train to continue investigation. Also aboard were the woman, reported to be from Richmond, Wash., and four men questioned by Van Vactor—three sailors and a Pullman porter.

It recalled the fiction-like "murder in lower 13" that occurred on the West Coast Limited six years ago in January.

In that case the train also was held at Klamath Falls while officials investigated the knife slaying of pretty Mrs. Martha Virginia Brinson James, 21, Norfolk, Va.

Washington Gets Clothes For Needy From Argentina

Washington, Jan. 15.—(P)—Surprise mingled with embarrassment today at the news that the Maria Eva Duarte De Peron Social Assistance Foundation of Argentina is donating clothing to care for 600 needy Washington children.

Mrs. Peron, the wife of Argentina's president, actively heads the foundation which bears her name.

"Surprised" was the reaction of Mrs. Fay Vawter of the Children's Aid Society to which the clothing has been donated. "We never had any idea the Argentine foundation was being solicited."

Embarrassment was the reaction among state department officials although they declined comment. The officials were obviously concerned over the Argentine gift which seemed to imply the United States is unable to look after its own needy.

SERVICE RESUMED

Tokyo, Jan. 15.—(P)—A two-way overseas radio telephone service between Japan and Germany was started today.

It is the first time the former Axis countries have had direct communications since the war.

In the movies, epson salt crystals are used to make blizzards.

Accident Occurs In Convenient Place

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 15.—(P)—A speeding car smashed into a parked taxicab today.

The vehicles hurtled 80 feet and came to rest beside a hospital door. Two men got out of the wreckage and walked in for treatment.

1,000 Hurt As Indians, Zulus Clash

Durban, South Africa, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Bloody race rioting spread to new districts and assumed menacing proportions in the Durban area today.

The Durban police said about 100 have been killed and 1,000 injured in the three days of fighting between Zulu and Indian inhabitants. But officials at Johannesburg estimated 300 were killed, and a Durban member of parliament said the figure was nearer 500.

Israeli-Egyptian Peace Conference Hits Rough Ground

Rhodes, Jan. 15.—(P)—The Israeli-Egyptian armistice conference today moved into the rough ground where it may come to wreck or success.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting U. N. mediator, was said by a reliable source to have attempted a bold stroke by submitting a draft proposal to each delegation covering all military and boundary phases of the Negev dispute.

If he succeeded in having it adopted, the conference, for all practical purposes, would be over. All that would remain would be the actual drafting and initialing of a permanent armistice agreement which probably would end the eight-months war over the Holy Land.

But the points on which Bunche sought agreement were those on which all cease-fires and temporary truces since October have been wrecked.

Included were the questions of Israel's lifting the siege of the Egyptian garrison of about 3,000 men at Faluja, the delineation of armistice lines to which the opposing forces would withdraw and the reduction of forces by both sides.

Man Threatened Because He Quit Progressive Party

Newark, N. J., Jan. 15.—(P)—A 30-year-old former Progressive party campaign manager appealed for police protection today against threats which he said he received from Communist leaders because he quit their organization.

Essex county Detective Chief Clarence Merrill said the man, William Clifford Holmes, requested a guard for his wife and infant son, and had given authorities a sworn statement detailing Communist preparations for the sabotage of industry in northern New Jersey in case of war with the Soviet Union.

Merrill said Holmes, a negro World War II veteran who worked as a Newark YMCA secretary, told of quitting the Communist party last month because it "lacked moral integrity."

Hysterical Wives Break Up Murder Trial Of Husbands

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(P)—One of Chicago's "mad dog" killers sentenced to death and the other to 199 years imprisonment today in a riotous court session almost broken up by the defendant's wives.

The two have been accused of killing three men and wounding two others during a gang style ride to Western suburbs Dec. 12, 1947.

When a criminal court jury announced a death penalty for James Morelli, 21, Mrs. Lowell Pentress, 20, let out a scream. She is the wife of the other defendant, Howell Pentress 20 and apparently assumed the same penalty was in store for him.

Morelli's wife joined in the screaming and the jury's announcement of a 199 year sentence for Pentress was drowned out.

Bailiffs, unable to quiet the pair, dragged them outside the courtroom. In the hallway, bailiffs and bystanders vainly tried to assure Mrs. Pentress her husband had been spared the death penalty but she continued screaming hysterically.

President Truman To Get Biggest, Best Inauguration

Washington, Jan. 15.—(P)—Plain Harry S. Truman's inaugural next Thursday may turn out to be history's fanciest.

Those in charge of the side line festivities promise more of almost everything. And better, too.

The actual oath taking comes Thursday, but there's going to be a lot going on all week.

Party faithful from far and wide—and some who may have had their doubts before the November election returns came in—are ready to make most of the occasion.

The elaborate goings on before and after the actual inaugural will contrast sharply with the last inaugural.

When Franklin D. Roosevelt took the oath as president for the fourth time Jan. 20, 1945, there was no fanfare. The nation then was fighting its greatest war and Mr. Roosevelt was sworn in quietly at the White House.

Businessmen Pinch Hit For Watchman

Kankakee, Ill., Jan. 15.—(P)—The Kankakee county village of Buckley couldn't afford to hire a night policeman. Now it has 60 of them—for free.

The 80 volunteered constables are businessmen, American Legionnaires and farmers in the town of a little more than 500 people. They have been deputized and they work in pairs from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Buckley not only doesn't have to pay the volunteers. They use their own cars and buy their own gasoline.

MAIL CARRIER DIES WHILE ON ROUTE

Danville, Ill., Jan. 15.—(P)—Kile Edward Rowand, 69-year-old rural mail carrier of Fairmount, Ill., was found dead today in his car. He apparently died of an attack of heart disease while on his route.

Rowand was Fairmount postmaster from 1934 to 1938. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Richard Guthrie of Paxton and Mrs. Ralph McKenzie of Elgin, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Bowen of Decatur, Ind.

Congress Lays Future Plans

Lamar, Mo., Jan. 15.—(P)—The four Missouri mules which will represent the birthplace of President Truman in the inaugural parade started for Washington today.

The four long eared animals—Buck, Polly, Duke and Blondie—were loaded aboard a truck driven by Billy Bob Adams, a brother of Claude Adams, the owner.

Late yesterday Lamar got a preview of what the mules would look like in the parade. The mules, decked out in harness with shiny fittings, pulled a white wagon around the square several times.

Will Push Aid To Schools, Rent Control

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Leaders put action on school aid and rent controls at the top of their list today for a post-inaugural legislative drive in Congress.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, who becomes majority leader next Thursday, told a reporter that a working schedule for the lawmaking program probably will be drawn up Monday at the weekly White House conference with President Truman.

Lucas said the administration regards rent controls and extension of import and export controls as pressing matters.

Man Threatened Because He Quit Progressive Party

Newark, N. J., Jan. 15.—(P)—A 30-year-old former Progressive party campaign manager appealed for police protection today against threats which he said he received from Communist leaders because he quit their organization.

ECA Reports Much Progress In Trade Of W. Europe

Washington, Jan. 15.—(P)—"Encouraging" progress in western Europe has boosted factory production and exports close to prewar volume, the Economic Cooperation Administration announced today.

The report was issued as ECA aided by a score of staff officials from the Marshall Plan Council in Paris, pushed preparations to ask congress for a second-year program of $4,500,000,000.

The ECA reported that almost all the 17 actively participating countries also have met "some success" in fighting the inflation which has disrupted their postwar trade and investment.

Total output of mines and factories last fall was 10 per cent above 1947 and "nearly equal to the 1938 rate"—the last year of peace in Europe. Exports, excluding shattered Germany, are at about the prewar, or 1938 level.

British Seize 3rd Top Red In Ruhr

Duesseldorf, Germany, Jan. 15.—(P)—British authorities announced today the arrest of a third top Communist in connection with a Communist rally protesting against the Ruhr statute.

A British announcement said a summons was served yesterday on Paul Salemba, Communist party secretary in the Ruhr, on charges of "organizing a public political meeting without permission of the military government."

In Rome, it is legal to arrest a person on suspicion, and the arrested person has to prove his innocence.

McGrath Advises Party Workers To Back Truman

Washington, Jan. 15.—(P)—National Committee Chairman J. Howard McGrath called on 25,000 Democratic party workers today to get behind President Truman's program and work for its fulfillment.

In a letter summing up the President's legislative, economic and budget proposals, Senator McGrath condemned Republican criticism that the Truman program is socialist. He said "Republican stand-patters have been crying 'socialism' ever since Bryan."

Meanwhile, the Republican national committee made public a tentative program for its Jan. 26-27 meeting at Omaha, Neb., to discuss a proposal for a 1949 party policy conference.

Top-Flight Scientist Leads New Atomic Power Program

Dr. Hafstad is now executive secretary of the national military establishment's research and development board. He formerly worked on such projects as the proximity fuse and guided missiles for the Johns Hopkins University applied physics laboratory.

The presidential budget which went to congress on January 10 carried an item of $120,000,000 for reactor development. A reactor is the so-called "atomic pile" of fissionable material which produces, among other things, heat to run conventional power plants. It is the "cool pile" of a power plant but one which does not burn up.

The budget request for the next fiscal year is an increase of more than $59,000,000 over the current year and of more than $66,000,000 over the previous fiscal year.

The commission announcement today said that "it is principally through the development of reactors that the Atomic Energy Commission expects in coming years to develop a means for utilizing the energy released by nuclear fission."

THE PIONEERING HIGGINS
(St. Louis Star-Times)

The voyage of the Angele Higgins up the Mississippi was fraught with many annoyances. The weather was bad, and the water was treacherously low for a craft requiring a minimum 9-foot channel. Just 36 miles out of St. Louis the Higgins hit a sandbar and had to wait for an army dredge to free it.

But the arrival of the first ocean-going ship ever to dock at the port of St. Louis was a historic occasion nevertheless. The Higgins brought scrap steel from Havana and is going back with a cargo of manufactured goods. This 256-foot vessel has demonstrated that it is physically possible to ship by water between St. Louis and foreign ports without transfer enroute.

Certainly the Higgins' trip has shown up some difficulties that ocean-going vessels have to contend with when they move into the river channel. It has proved, though, that these are not insurmountable. Changes in the design of future dual-purpose ships may overcome some of them. Better control of the river channel, with assurance of a little greater depth all the way, would solve the major problem.

In any event, the curtains of uncertainty have been rent. The pioneer journey has been made. St. Louis can speculate hopefully on the prospect of a day when foreign flags will be commonplace along the riverfront and a new era in the commercial life of the city will be opened.

Boyle's Column
The Machine Has Man In A Slot

By Hal Boyle
New York.—(P)—The poor man's philosopher says: science needs someone to holler "whoa!"
Right now. Before something climbs out of a laboratory and overwhelms the human race.
What's going on here? What's buzzin', cousin? Where are these test tube savants and nabobs of nuclear energy taking us? What have the blip jockeys got coming up next on science's radar? Who's in such a hurry to go where?

The warplane? It's a toy of the past—or soon will be. The atom bomb that was supposed to have the power to destroy civilization is getting to be old stuff, too. The military is reported to be planning a man-made platform in the ionosphere—a circulating satellite to serve as a kind of pitcher's box from which to throw the weapon of the future.
A Mechanical Brain!
Space ships and rockets to the moon—they are in the offering. Only optimists will buy a round trip ticket.
As if these Jules Verne nightmares weren't enough, a British scientist has come up with a horror to end all horrors—a mechanical brain.

And that's why somebody'd better yell "whoa!" right now to the boys who burn the midnight business.
This scientist, Dr. W. R. Ashby, helped build a machine which he says is beginning to think. Well, there you are—the machine at last is on a mental par with man. For man, after all his story centuries, is only beginning to think, too.
It's been a fraud all along—this idea that man was master and the machine the slave. People used to have a fear that the machine would throw them out of work. That was nonsense. The machine intended all along to put more and more people to work—and to make them keep working, too. And it has.

Machine Made Man A Slave
When the original traitor to mankind discovered the first machine—the wheel—how many men had to labor for a living? How many have to work now? Millions more.
The machine led man into slavery slowly. The saying arose, "all you have to do to get ahead is to put your shoulders to the wheel." Haha! Does that satisfy the machine today?

No, it demands your whole anatomy. To drive a car to work you have to climb completely inside the machine. You have to use your head, your hands, your feet, your eyes, your nerves, your muscles—and often your vocal chords.
And when you get to work the machine willing to let you put mere! your shoulder to the wheel?

Lamb Cushion Shoulder Makes Plentiful Meal

MENU

Stuffed Lamb Shoulder
Poached Apples
Creamed Potatoes and Peas
Tomato-Endive Salad
Chocolate Sundaes
Milk Iced Tea

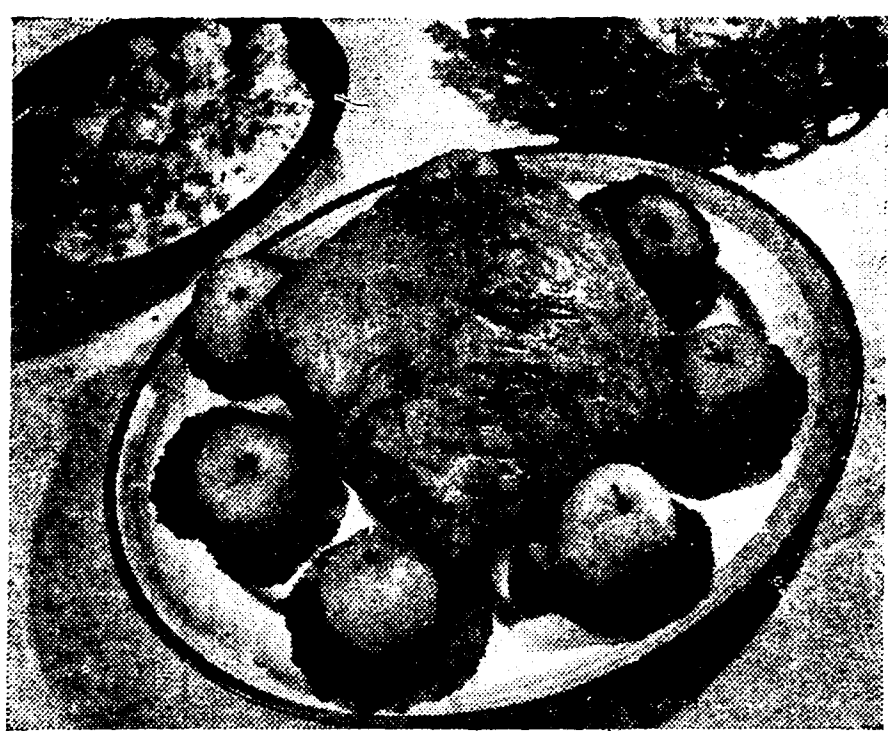

There's nothing better to inspire appetites than a juicy tender cut of lamb. And a good cut to serve often is lamb cushion shoulder. When stuffed, this cut has a plump generous look about it that is especially inviting.

In other kinds of meat, the shoulder cuts are considered less tender and must be cooked with moist heat to make them tender. Lamb, however, is tender in all its cuts except the shank and breast, so the cushion shoulder may be roasted. Therefore, it is more than suitable for a Sunday dinner or a "company meal."

Appealing Menu Scheme

Be sure to make the stuffed lamb shoulder as appetizing as it looks by paying particular attention to the stuffing. A flavorful stuffing made with whole kernel corn is a good choice. If you select this, you might serve tart little poached apples as a saucy garnish. Creamed potatoes and peas for a vegetable and a tomato-endive salad would be good accompaniments, and for dessert, how about chocolate sundaes? There is nature's abundance personified!

Generous-Looking Roast

You're sure to win the family's approval when you bring this generous looking stuffed lamb shoulder to the table. Fill the shoulder with a corn stuffing, then roast to a turn, serve with poached apples, and see what a delicious meal you have!

Another stuffing that is particularly appealing with lamb is a corn stuffing. Season and fill with mint stuffing: your favorite bread, corn stuffing. Sew or skewer open. Place, fat-side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300° F.) allowing 40 minutes per pound. Serves 8.

Meredosia Power Line To Quincy Given Approval

The Illinois Commerce commission has authorized the Central Illinois Public Service company to construct a 138,000 volt electric power transmission line from its new generating plant at Meredosia to Quincy and to acquire necessary right of way by purchase or condemnation.

No announcement has been made recently as to when the utility company plans to build the line.

However, when first units of the Meredosia plant went into operation last June it was announced that a 138,000 volt transmission line would be constructed to Quincy within the next two or three years.

Construction probably depends upon availability of materials. It also was originally announced that it was planned to start with a 60,000 volt line, stepping up the capacity later to 138,000.

John Shadid Returns From South America

Returning to Jacksonville after spending more than three months in South America, John Shadid, proprietor of Shadid's Shoe Store on East State street, reported that many changes have taken place in the country in which his mother, brother and two sisters make their home.

On his first visit to South America since 1922, Mr. Shadid found the country more modernized in many respects, and more heavily populated. Stores and dwellings had adhered to a more modern architectural pattern and many changes had transpired in the people themselves.

Mr. Shadid waited a year for permission to make the journey. On Oct. 4, 1948, after his papers had been approved by various governmental authorities, he left for New York, where on Oct. 8 he boarded a steamer which took him to Santos, Brazil, where he encountered further difficulties in the nature of not having a proper visa.

"Just Passing Through"
It seems the Brazilian counsel in New York had been under the impression that Mr. Shadid wanted to stop over in South America on his way to Syria and had fixed his visa accordingly. He was able to get this matter straightened out, however, by applying for a renewal from the Brazilian police commissioner.

In Santos, he was met by his brother, Elias, and his sisters, Alla and Zakia, and their families, numbering 16 in all. The group then went to San Paulo, where Mr. Shadid's mother lives.

Syria is the Shadid's native land. Mr. Shadid left there in 1908 and came to this country, settling in Springfield, Ill. In 1911, he came to Jacksonville, where he has resided since. He first opened his shoe shop on North Main street, where he was in business for two and a half years before moving to his present location.

Rest of Family Picked Brazil
When the rest of the family left Syria, about 35 years ago, they settled in Brazil. One of Mr. Shadid's sisters lives in Palmatal, while his mother, brother and other sister all live in San Paulo.

The city of San Paulo has a population of about 2,000,000, and is known as "the Chicago of South America." It is the largest coffee center in South America, producing an annual crop of about 13,000,000 bags. This year's crop, which has been badly damaged by insects, is expected to be around 6,000,000 bags.

"One year the crop is good, the next year it is bad," said Mr. Shadid. The little bushes on which the coffee beans grow do not produce good crops two years in succession.

Christmas a Gay Event
Mr. Shadid was in San Paulo for Christmas, which is celebrated there in much the same manner as it is in the United States, only on a smaller scale.

The stores are gaily decorated, but not quite so lavishly as in the States, and Santa Claus can be seen on various street corners.

Mr. Shadid tells of one Christmas display, featuring Santa Claus, loaded with gifts and riding a bicycle atop one of the larger stores. This display attracted so much attention that traffic through the section was blocked off for two weeks before Christmas.

Remains Of Two Morgan Co. Men Arrive In U. S.

The remains of two Morgan county men who died in the service of their country were aboard the U. S. Transport Sergeant Jack J. Pendleton which brought 4,504 war dead from the Pacific area to the west coast.

The War Department announcement included names of Pfc. Alfred C. Andrews of the Marines, whose next of kin is Mrs. May J. Andrews, 906 Rott street, and Pfc. Lloyd F. Hayes, Army, whose next of kin is Robert Hayes of Jacksonville route two.

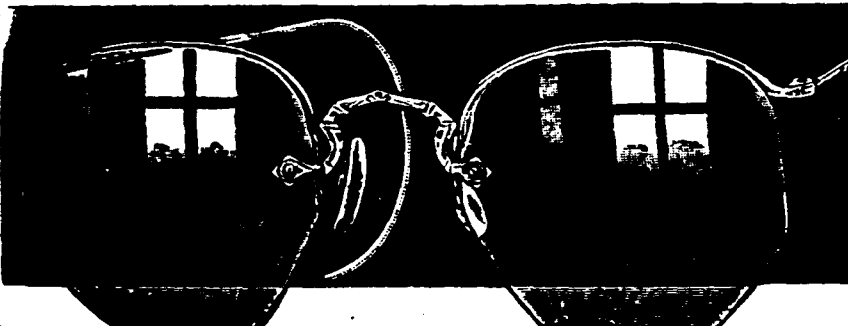

Illinois war dead brought home on the transport totaled 248 men.

Army officials said each next of kin was notified in advance of the arrival of the vessel and would be notified again after arrival of the remains at regional distribution centers.

SERVICE PROVEN

Ever since the completion of the City Power Plant in March 1939 . . . many people in Jacksonville have wondered what would happen if an emergency was ever to occur. This last week just such an emergency happened. Our power lines were hard hit by ice formations and falling limbs. From late Monday night until Thursday morning in the vicinity of 500 calls were handled through our office.

Our repair forces were divided into three crews and placed on 24-hour emergency service. In 51 hours time, repairs were made to 20 of our "Supply Feeder Lines" where our main source of trouble was. The repairs were made without any outside help, although the Illinois Public Power Association, which we are a member, offered to send repair crews from Bloomington and Springfield.

The City Street Department helped greatly by clearing fallen limbs and debris on the wires.

The only car you step down into

BETTER design: Because the "step-down" principle is so basically right, it enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions and symmetric, free-flowing lines.

BETTER performance: Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, perform at their best because this car is so thoroughly streamlined.

BETTER roadability: With the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car, Hudson really hugs the road, especially on curves. Hudson's Fluid-Cushioned Clutch, Center-Point Steering and Triple-Safe Brakes contribute mightily to a wonderful feeling of assurance.

BETTER value: One look, one ride will quickly tell you that here is an automobile so far ahead it is a protected investment.

Come in, drive the New Hudson with Drive-Master Transmission — no clutch pushing or gear shifting in forward speeds — all-new, high-compression Super-Six, or masterful Super-Eight engine — Super-Cushion tires — and more than 20 other important features!

Beware of Romance

By Roberto Courtland

MIKE broke off and studied her with a sudden sharp intensity as though he had never seen her before. "At least I suppose I'm in love with you. Frankly, I don't know."

He looked at Kin and, man to man, demanded, "What do you think, sir? Would it be love?"

Kin's eyes twinkled a little, but he answered with suitable gravity. "I have to admit the symptoms sound quite convincing. I understand it affects a fellow somewhat in that fashion."

Mike nodded. "That's what I thought. I've never felt like this before, and the only explanation I could think of was that it must be love. So we're going to be married and that's that. If it doesn't work out—what the dickens? There's always Reno."

Merry stared at him, her eyes as round as saucers and her face quite white.

"That does it!" she flashed furiously. "Reno! Why-why, Mike Channing, I perfectly despise you! When I marry—if I marry—it's going to be for keeps! And I'm not having any short-term leases, thank you very much! And I'm glad I'm not in love with you! I'm not, and I wouldn't be. Not for anything in the world."

"Oh, now, wait a minute!" protested Mike. "Maybe I blew my top. Maybe I lost my temper. I thought you were giving me a brush-off. I didn't believe you were really staying in just to be with your father. I had no business coming up here and sounding off. Sure you love me, I love you, and we'll make a go of it. We'll even have one of those 'until death do us part' kind of weddings, though frankly I'm taking a rather dim view of it."

KIN cleared his throat and said mildly, "Forgive me if I seem to intrude with a bit of well-considered advice. But really, Channing, old man, may I suggest you're taking a very wrong attitude toward the whole matter? Merry's had a pretty old-fashioned upbringing. She's a bit allergic to casual talk of divorce."

Mike stared at him, affronted. "You mean I shouldn't point out to her that it doesn't work out, it needn't be a lifetime sentence?"

"Of course that's what he means, you blithering idiot," snapped Merry hotly.

Mike turned and surveyed her for a moment. Then suddenly he grinned, a gay, heart-warming grin that made Merry's startled young heart climb up into her throat and do a nip-up, while she stared at him, wide-eyed. And then he dropped gracefully to one knee, put a hand over his heart and said in a deep, vibrant tone, "Miss Carson—Miss Merry—may I call you Merry? Will you do me the very great honor of becoming my chosen bride? Forever and perhaps for a few days longer?"

Kin grinned, and Merry's color burned hotly as she said swiftly, her voice shaking, "Oh, for goodness sake, get up and don't be a fool!"

"Here I am," said Mike firmly, balancing himself gracefully on one knee, "and here I stay until you speak the one little word that will make me the happiest man in the world."

"No!" exploded Merry, while Kin chuckled.

Mike sighed lugubriously, rose, meticulously dusted his trousers, and said sadly, "Well, that wasn't exactly the word I had in mind. Still—"

"Dad, make him behave himself!" flashed Merry helplessly.

Mike sighed and shook his head. "Stubborn child, aren't you? Oh, well, all the more fun smacking your ears down, as I shall certainly do sooner or later." And he turned to Kin. "Good night."

Mr. Carson. Nice seeing you. We'll probably be bumping into each other from time to time."

HE bowed, made a little gesture toward Merry that was a sort of salute, and walked out. Merry stood quite still where she was until she heard the outer door clicking open and shut. Then she turned to Kin and said helplessly, "Isn't he fantastic?"

"He seems a likeable sort of guy," said Kin mildly.

"Oh, he's grand fun and we have a good time together, but can you imagine marrying him?"

Kin laughed. "Well, personally, I can't. But there are a lot of girls around town who'd give their pretty eyeteeth for the chance."

"Oh, I don't for a moment think he was in earnest," protested Merry swiftly. "I would probably have frightened him to death if I'd said yes!"

Kin shook his head. "Oh, no, you wouldn't. That was what he really wanted you to say. Heavens to Betsy, child, don't you know enough to know when a man is really in earnest?"

Merry shook her own head, and there was a sober look in her eyes. "I guess I don't know much about men, Dad," she confessed humbly. "Now, a man like Tip—"

She broke off, and her color burned hotly beneath the startled look Kin gave her.

"Yes, baby, a man like Tip?" he prodded her gently, all but holding his breath.

Merry hesitated and then she said awkwardly, "Well, with Tip, you know where you stand every single minute. He isn't making mad love to you one minute, and then laughing in your face the next. Mike sort of baffles me."

Kin put his arm about her and held her close, his cheek against her soft, burnished hair.

"Poor child, you are growing up, aren't you?" he said almost sadly.

And Merry hid her hot face against his shoulder and her voice came to him low and muffled. "I'm afraid I am, Dad, and it's not too much fun."

Each Age Group To Have Night At "Y"

A new schedule designating different nights on which the social facilities of the Youth Center will be available to the various age groups, has been arranged by the program committee, with Bill Clark as chairman, and has been given the approval of the Y.M.C.A. executive board, according to announcement made Friday by Paul T. Hartman, new "Y" secretary.

The schedule, which goes into effect on Monday, Jan. 17, will be as follows: Monday, young adults; Tuesday, junior high, seventh and eighth grade students; Wednesday, high school students; Thursday, special groups; Friday, high school and junior high students; and Saturday, high school and young adults.

This schedule will provide a means of carrying out programs more suitable for the individual age groups. Announcement of the new schedule will appear in the high school and college papers.

All Young People Invited

All young people in the county are invited to take part in the activities at "Y" on the night specified for their age group.

The Y. M. C. A. clubs will meet on their regular nights, but will not have access to the social rooms, unless the members are in the special age group which has the use of the building on that night.

No special night has been set aside for grade school children, since it is felt that the social programs offered are not suitable for young people under junior high age.

Included in the young adults group which has the building on Monday nights, are those young people between the ages of 18 and 25, including college students, nurses or young men and women of the community who are working.

Special Groups

The special groups for which Thursday night is reserved includes 4-H clubs and rural organizations and various church and school groups.

Besides their special night, Wednesday, the students of the high school are given an opportunity to mix with the younger and older groups. The youth center is closed on Sunday nights.

Since friendships are not particularly limited to special age levels, those wishing to bring their "dates," even though they belong to a different age group, may feel free to do so.

Philadelphians Men Buy Eagles, Pro Football Team

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A syndicate of 100 Philadelphia business men bought the Philadelphia Eagles for $250,000 today to "bring local pro football back to the community."

The National football league champions have been owned for eight years by Alexis Thompson, New York millionaire. Thompson said he sold the Philadelphia franchise because he found it a losing proposition even with a title winning team.

The new owners, headed by James P. Clark, former Democratic city chairman, said, "Civic pride and interest in the community have been the factors chiefly motivating the purchase."

"None of the club's new officers will receive any salary," said Clark, adding, "we want this great Philadelphia sports enterprise to maintain its success and acquire the character of a true city project."

NFL Commissioner Bert Bell was on hand to witness the turning over of the Eagles and announced that loop owners gave unanimous approval to the deal in a telephone poll.

Bell said Clark will represent Philadelphia at the annual league meeting in Chicago next week.

Iowa Upsets Ohio State 53-49

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Iowa shook off Ohio State's late threat to upset the Buckeyes 53-49 tonight for its first Big Nine basketball victory in three games.

Ohio State was without the services of Dick Schnitzler, leading conference scorer who was hospitalized with a throat infection.

Iowa hustled to a 32-26 halftime lead behind the sharp-shooting of Tony Guzowski who made 13 points, including six field goals.

The Hawks pushed to a 41-31 margin, the widest of the contest, after nine minutes in the last half before Ohio State counter-charged with a basket flurry.

The Buckeyes drew up to 42-41 with eight minutes to play but that was as close as they came.

Ohio got off to a fast start in quest of its second conference win in three games. The Buckeyes boasted a 10-4 advantage in the first five minutes. But Iowa gradually cut down the Buckeye advantage and surged into a 12-all tie in the next five minutes. Al Weiss put Iowa ahead with a free throw and the Hawks never lost the lead.

Stranahan Leads In Crosby Golf Tournament

Pebble Beach, Calif., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Muscular young amateur Frank Stranahan tossed a par shattering bombshell into the solid ranks of the big professionals today to pop into the lead of the Bing Crosby invitational golf tournament.

The millionaire-apparent from Toledo, O., who plays as much competitive golf as any in the country, shot a second round 66 to wrest the lead from the national champion himself, Ben Hogan.

Stranahan, six under par for the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course, had a 36-hole total of 137.

Hogan, U. S. Open and P.G.A. titleholder as well as a stout favorite to win here, had moved to the front of the pack earlier in the day. Hogan also had a 66 that gave him a two round score of 138.

Whether Stranahan will be leading at the end of tomorrow's third and final round of the 54-hole links party staged annually by crooner Crosby, was anybody's guess tonight. In any event, being strictly amateur, he won't threaten the pros in their quest for the $10,000 in cash prizes.

But the men who play for pay dislike having a Simon Pure outsider, them.

Stranahan, incidentally, has done this before. He won the Miami Open last December from the country's leading professionals.

SLUMP IN SOYBEANS, LARD AGAIN CAUSES GRAINS TO DECLINE

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Pressure against soybeans and lard again caused a weak tone in all commodities on the Board of Trade today. Wheat did a little better than other cereals, some buying being attracted into the new crop months toward the close.

Soybeans dropped nearly 5 cents at one time, the July contract moving to a new seasonal low. Commission houses again sold beans and what support the market got seemed to come mainly from previous short sellers.

Lard hovered around the lows made yesterday, which were also the bottoms since trading in the various contracts started. A big increase in United States cold storage holdings of this commodity was one factor in the generally bearish atmosphere.

Wheat, corn and oats all were down around a cent at times. Corn and oats did not show much rallying ability, and neither did May wheat.

Wheat closed 1 lower to 1 higher. May $2.25-2.25; corn was 1 to 1 cent lower, May $1.45-1.45. Oats were unchanged to 1 cent lower, May 74-1; rye was 11 lower, May $1.66; soybeans were 13-21 lower, March $2.49-2.45, and lard was 13 to 23 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $14.77.

Estimated receipts of grain in carlots here today wheat 18, corn 197, oats 26, rye none, barley 11 and soybeans 7.

Markets at a Glance

New York, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Stocks: Quiet, AT&T drops again. Bonds: Mixed, changes narrow. Cotton: Easier, trade buying. Chicago: Wheat: Mixed; new crop months steady. Corn: Easy; unsettled by soybean slump. Oats: Lower with corn, soybeans.

An original field of 800 is entered in the tournament series. Thirteen regionals will have no district preliminaries.

Vets Can Apply For Insurance At Any Time

Veterans who did not take advantage of government insurance while in service during World War II may apply at any time.

The law governing National Service Life Insurance provides that all veterans who saw active duty between October 8, 1940 and September 2, 1945 are eligible to apply for this low-premium insurance.

A physical examination must be satisfactorily passed by the applicant and one month's premium must be submitted at the time of application. Amount of insurance can be any sum in multiples of $500 between $1,000 and $10,000.

Veterans who maintained government term insurance for any period of time and subsequently permitted it to lapse can have their insurance reinstated at any time by passing a physical exam and paying two months' premiums.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans Commission in all of the 102 counties of the state have been instructed on these specific benefits of National Service Life Insurance. They are ready to assist any veteran or to furnish information as required.

In Morgan county the office of the Commission is located at 6-7 Morrison Block in Jacksonville.

Dramatist Entertains Woman's Club Saturday

Eleanor Sikes Peters, dramatist, entertained members of the Jacksonville Woman's club at their January meeting held Saturday afternoon at the Dunlap hotel.

Mrs. Peters replaced the scheduled speaker, Sarah Miller Barr, who was unable to appear because of illness in the family.

"Contrasting Portraits" was the theme of Mrs. Peters' program.

She presented four mother-daughter skits, ranging from Victorian to strictly modern.

Her first skit, a scene from Oscar Wilde's "Lady Windermere's Fan," emphasized the conflict and melodramatic undertones which audiences of the Victorian Era expected in all dramatic presentations.

Her second skit was from "Dear Octopus," a play about family life. It epitomized the tolerance and understanding common to most mother-daughter relationships today.

Done in Swedish dialect, her third skit was especially appealing, characterizing the bravery and fortitude of motherhood.

Her concluding skit was a chapter from Sally Benson's "Junior Miss" and was of a humorous vein, with Mrs. Peters portraying three characters, that of a mother and her two daughters.

Uranatist 15 Years
Mrs. Peters is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and has been a dramatist for 15 years, associated with Hills Falk studios in New York and Chicago. She was featured on the program at the Morgan County Teacher's Institute in October of 1944.

Preceding the program a business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Fletcher J. Blackburn. The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Paul S. Black, followed by "The Lord's Prayer," said in unison.
